

SHADOWS '88

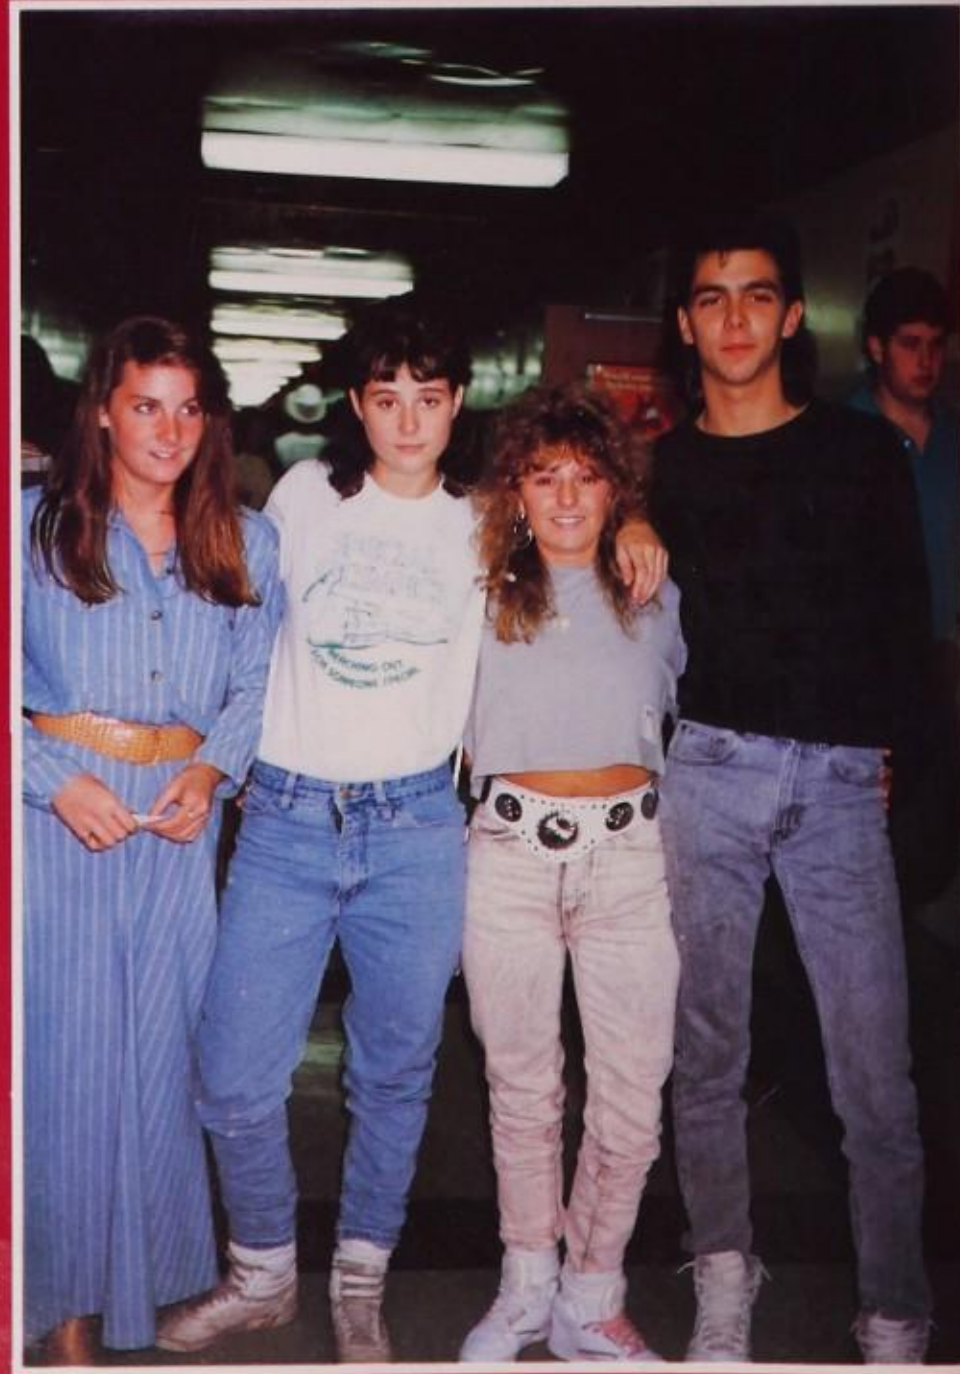

THE ROAD

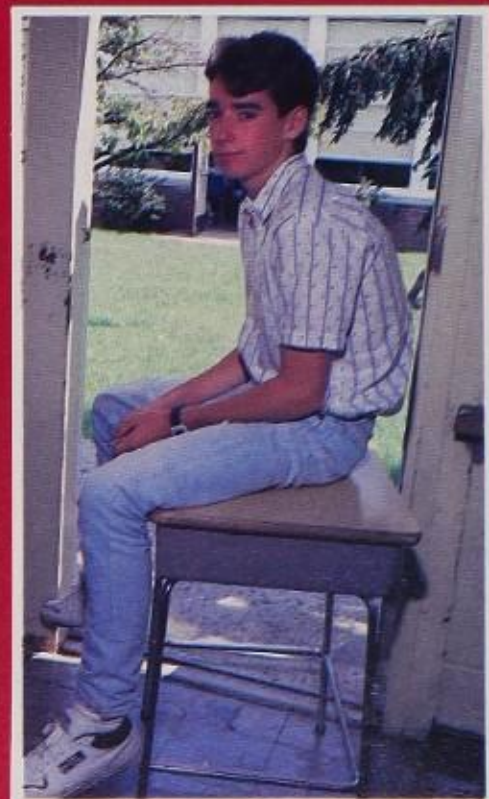

from

VERONA HIGH SCHOOL
SHADOWS '88

As we walk down life's winding path, we'll stumble once or twice.

The joys and sorrows of every day don't slow us down, but keep us moving.

Sometimes the road seems dimly lit;

misfortunes cloud the way.

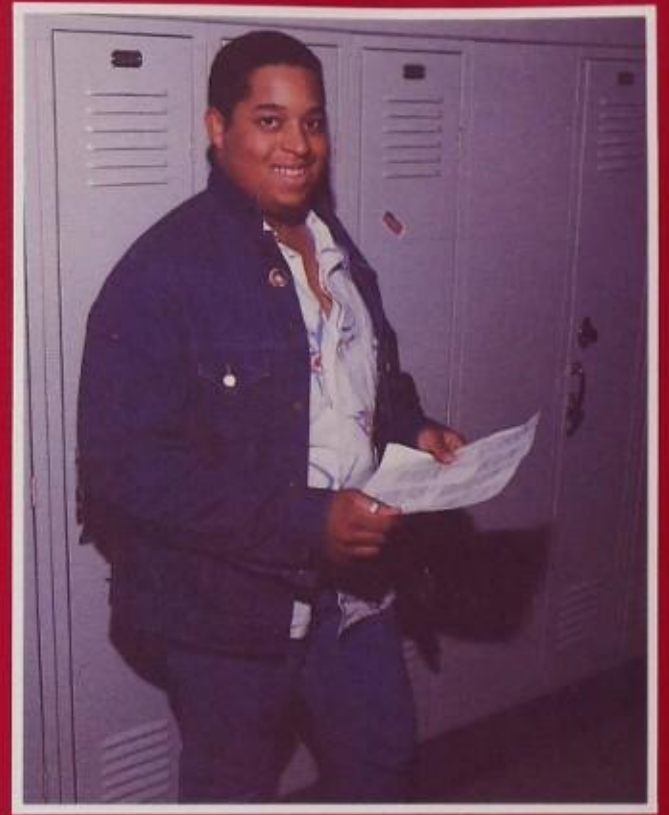

Yet for each of these trials there's a reason:

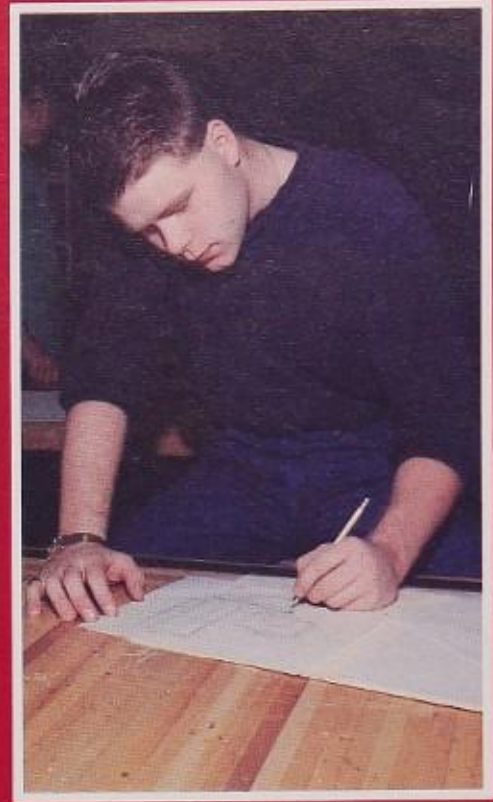

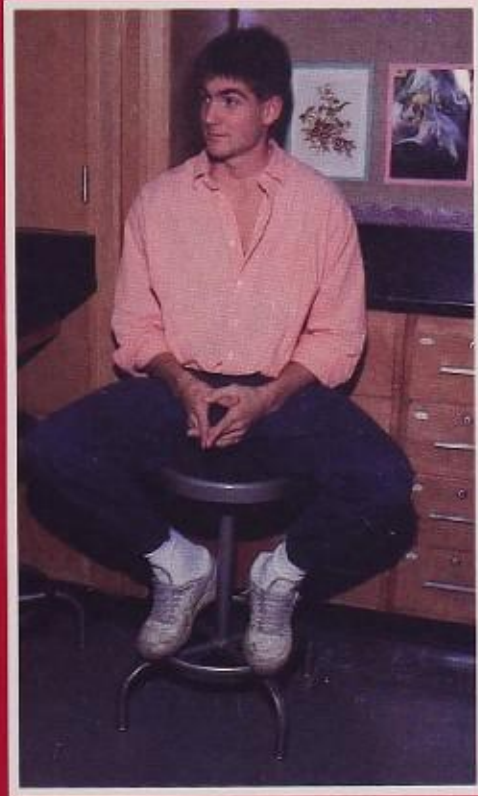

to gain knowledge for our journey.

We live our lives to the fullest, not knowing what lies ahead.

We may stumble and we might fall, yet hope will lighten our burden.

So keeping our eyes on the road ahead, we continue our journey to its end.

Dedication '88: George Stiefbold

To all here at VHS, George Stiefbold is very special. Some know him as a championship-caliber soccer coach; others as a tireless driving instructor; and just about everyone knows 'Steppy' as a gym teacher. But Mr. Stiefbold is unique in his ability to play each of these roles with utmost dedication.

Throughout his 34 years at VHS, he has influenced the lives of many. His students remember him as a man who built character and confidence and who always took them beyond the lesson in the book.

The Class of 1988 dedicates this yearbook to you, Mr. Stiefbold, our teacher, mentor, and friend.

Freshman Year 1984-1985

In 1984, on September 5, the unsuspecting halls of VHS welcomed the class of 1988. Under the student leadership of our president, Sandra Fishco, vice president, Scott Chesney, secretary, Clair Testa, and class advisors, Mr. Ken Luks and Mrs. Maria Clayton, the class of 1988 quickly established itself and discovered that there was never a swimming pool on the (also non-existing) second floor. We welcomed Mr. Harry Owens as the new band director and Mr. Rich Meyer as the new Dean of Students. Freshman football maintained a 1-8 record as soccer finished up the season 1-9. Fortunately, the baseball team shone, taking a winning season of 14-5. We experienced our first pep rally with the theme of "There's No Stoppin' Us" as our first Thanksgiving game ended in victory. The annual musical was Broadway's FANTASTIKS which coincided with English class's ROMEO and JULIET (and let's not forget Typing I!). We were Coach Rotella's last freshman class and we bid him a fond farewell as he retired. Finally, after we thought it was all over, we were hit by final exams. Struggling through, however, we made it to Sophomore year.

Sophomore Year 1985-1986

After a great summer, the class of '88 returned to the busy halls of VHS. Student council elections resulted in Scott Chesney moving up to president and Laura Clark and Jessica Isquith as our vice president and secretary. Coach SanFillipo came to VHS as did many other teachers. Mr. Joe Refinski relieved Mrs. Terri Fryer when she had a baby girl, Miss Joann Rean took over Mrs. Pat Schoenig's position during her maternity leave, and Miss Jill Quigley replaced Mrs. Maria Clayton, while Mrs. Grace Tracey became our new class advisor, assisting Mr. Luks. Along with the teachers, the morning song left the loudspeakers of VHS as the five minute homeroom period moved in. The cheerleaders led the pep rally with "Dare Me" as the school cheered on the football team, who ate up Caldwell at Thanksgiving to the tune of 24-0. Mr. Refinski helped organize Verona's part in Hands Across America and the year was highlighted by the Jungle-themed Ring Dance. Scott Chesney Day was held and he returned to the classes of VHS. Mr. John Burguillos and Mr. Boris Weller left us, but not before giving us those final exams. Not as overwhelmed by the tests, the class of '88 once again made it to the next year.

Junior Year 1986-1987

Finally, as the new upperclassmen, we returned to VHS to find our lockers repainted maroon and gray. Paul Marashlian was elected president and was assisted by Jessica Isquith and Jeff Spreng as vice president and secretary. A few more changes awaited us as we went through our junior year. Mrs. Barbara Kistner, Mrs. Maria Lanahan, and Mr. Ken Treitler replaced Miss Quigley, Mr. Burguillos, and Mr. Weller in their respective positions as Mr. Gerald Lamb took charge of the math department. A new fundraiser — the class competition — took place and was (of course) ultimately won by the junior class. A new four marking period out-to-lunch policy awaited us as seniors, as did the new parking lot rule of seniors with parking stickers only. As Driver Education students took to the roads with their new licenses, many got 10 — 7:30's for forgetting that only seniors could park in the lot. The football team once again shut out Caldwell as the cheerleaders danced to the tune of "Victory" at the pep rally. Another new experience was the town council sponsored "Mayor for a Day" program, as well as the year's highlight; the Junior-Senior Prom, based on the theme "Tender Years" by John Cafferty and the Beaver Brown Band. We sadly said goodbye to one of our class advisors, Mrs. Tracey, as final exams were taken. What awaited us next was our last year in high school — as SENIORS!

Senior Year 1987-1988

It's September again and as the class of '88 enters the halls of VHS, we realize one thing — we are SENIORS! With Scott Chesney, James Barrett, and Eric Schaeffer as our class president, vice president, and secretary, it appeared as if the senior class was all set for the year. The parking lot was finally open to us, and most of us got our maroon and white out to lunch cards. Halloween brought out the angel (and devil) in many of us as the school was filled with parading seniors. Leading up to winter season, we flooded the office with college applications, desperate to get them in on time and then waiting anxiously to hear from the colleges. The wheelchair basketball game between the New Jersey Blue Devils and our seniors raised the much-needed money for our class as we approached Thanksgiving. The pep rally helped cheer on the football team, who put out a good effort against an undefeated Caldwell team, scoring 14, more points than the total points Caldwell had against them all season, leaving the score 42-14. This game ended the 49-year traditional battle between Verona and Caldwell as Verona leaves the Northern Hills Conference, leaving Verona ahead 25 to 24. Honor Society inductions expanded the Honor Society membership to a record number, making our class one of the most competitive to graduate from Verona. As Senior Slaves, however, we raised more money as many lucky underclassmen had seniors carrying their books and walking them to class. The year continued on to the Junior-Senior Prom, and the well-deserved Senior Banquet. We gave a fond adieu to Mr. Harry Owens and began to alert colleges that we were on our way. Caps and gowns were purchased, and exam exemptions were granted to (some of!) us. Finally, after long hours of practice and waiting, we put on our caps and gowns, walked up to receive our diplomas, and rejoiced as finally . . . GRADUATION!

Mr. Victor Ferrarelli

Mrs. Patricia Maisenbacher

Mr. Robert Neff

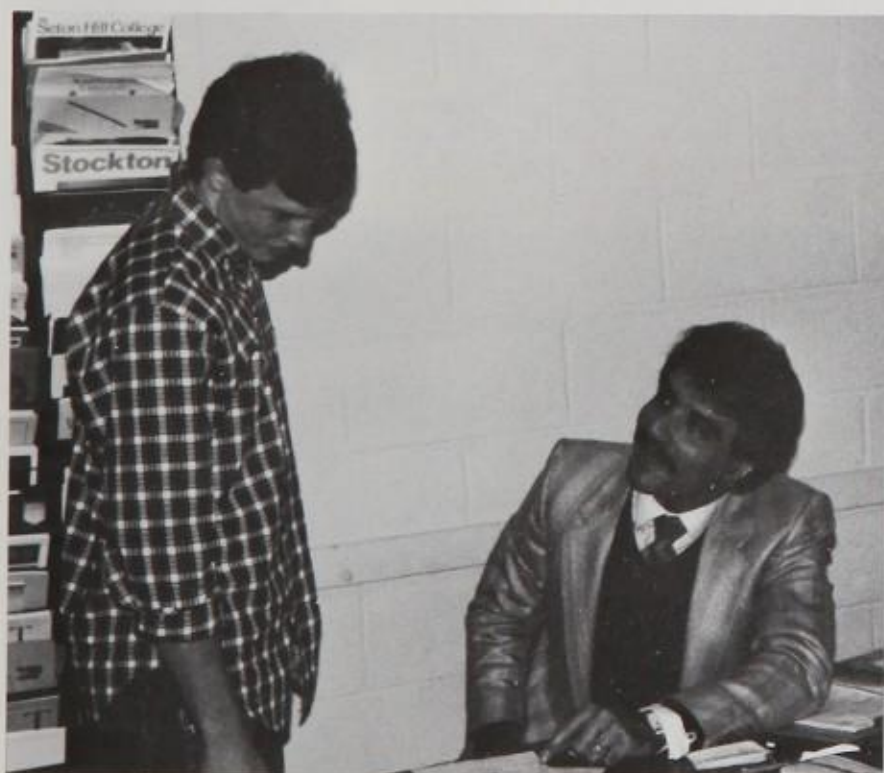

Mrs. Joanne Kempczynski

Mrs. Maisenbacher helps senior Tina Guarneri with college applications. Counselors aid the seniors by answering questions and providing information about college and opportunities and by supervising the long application process.

Senior Kim Maziarz goes to guidance to discuss the college application process with her counselor. In conjunction with parents, the guidance department helps with the many interviews and essays involved in the application process.

Junior Ted Duffy consults with Mr. Ferrarelli about scheduling problems. For the juniors, group meetings with a counselor stress planning beyond high school and help to better prepare students for the PSAT, SAT and Achievement tests.

Mrs. Kempczynski accepts a college application from senior Kathy Minard. In addition to giving sound academic advice, the guidance counselors are also ready to help with any personal or family problem. They have genuine concern for the students and they hope they can create a feeling of general well-being.

The Verona High School Varsity Football Team finished the season with a record of 4-5.

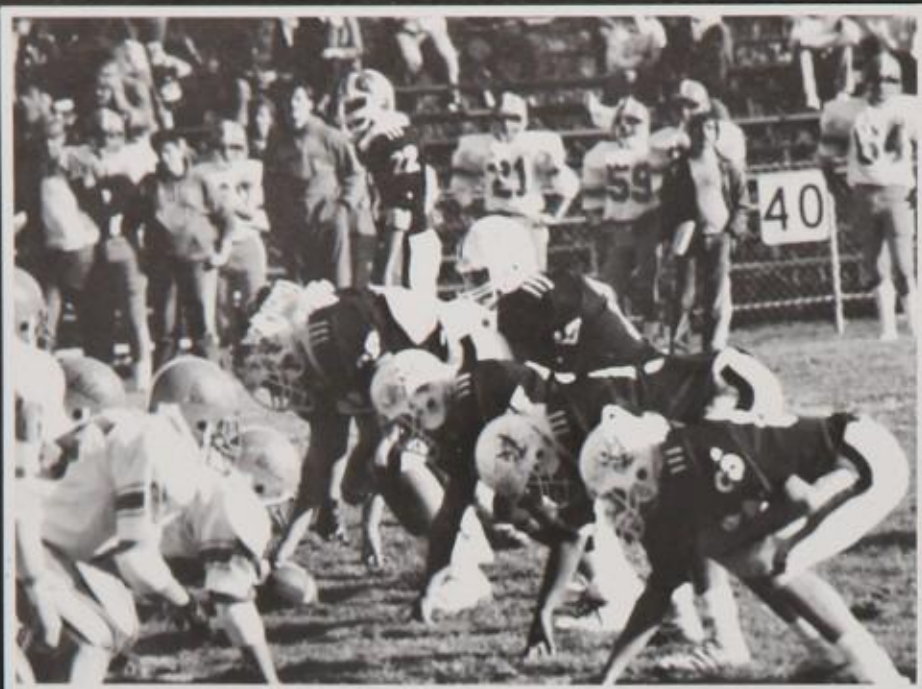

Although the Hillbillies lacked size, Verona made up for this by being scrappy and going after people. Although few players were over 200 pounds, the maroon and white combined technique with heart to play solid ball.

Coached by Rich SanFillipo and captained by Matt Venezia and Jim Crawford, Verona defeated Clifford Scott 20-0, DePaul 13-0, Pequonnock 13-7, and Milburn in a stunning 7-6 4th quarter victory.

The team then looked forward to the traditional Thanksgiving game against the neighboring Caldwell Chiefs. This was the last game between Caldwell and Verona because Verona will be entering the Colonial Hills Conference next year.

Verona lost to the Chiefs 42-14; despite the outcome, Verona played hard and came out as the first team to score on Caldwell's starting defense. It was the 49th meeting between Verona and Caldwell. Verona won the series 25-24.

The 1987 Varsity Cheerleaders sparked the football team to a 4-5 finish. The team's final loss came to a very tough Caldwell squad on Thanksgiving Day.

Coach Donna Castellano helped the girls perfect their routines in practices after school. The girls cheered for both the boys' and girls' soccer games at home as well as the football games every Saturday. They also decorated the gym and led the pep rallies for fall sports and for the Thanksgiving Day game.

Weekly bake sales and "spirit chains" raised money, and the girls took turns preparing a Saturday morning pre-game breakfast. Special duties included making colorful signs and banners and buying candy which they put in the players' lockers on Friday afternoon.

This year has been a building one for the boys' varsity soccer team. Coach Stiefbold says that the team has many inexperienced players who need time playing for the varsity squad. The team's record is 1-13-1, but there are many juniors on the varsity team and the coach is looking forward to a successful season next year.

This year's varsity squad consisted of eight seniors, nine juniors and only one sophomore.

The captains of this year's team are Thomas Falcone, Ross MacNett, and Chris Romanyshyn. Chris is disappointed with this season, but says, "Next year we'll have a better team and be in an easier conference; we should do better."

The girls' varsity soccer team has had a tough schedule this year with a record of 4-11-1. Although their record may not be considered successful in the win-loss column, the team's efforts were commendable.

Senior leadership was provided by co-captains Kelly McCormick, Kerri Alworth, and Gina D'Acunti.

The defense was led by Kelly McCormick and Kerry Alworth, and the offense was led by senior Jayme Paterson with 8 goals and 9 assists. Right behind Paterson was sophomore Nicole Sandomeno with 7 goals.

The highlight of the season was bouncing back from a 7 game losing streak to beat Millburn, county finalist, 2-1 in the last home game.

Robin: "The finishing touch."

Cathy: "It feels great to win."

Amy: "Do you like my sneakers?"

Jenn: "I'm praying for the ball to go in."

The 1987 girls' tennis team had its best year ever: the team emerged as the champion of all North Jersey in Group I and had four starters named to All-State Group I teams.

Cathy Kuebler was named to the first team All-State, Amy Tortorella to the second, and the doubles team of Katie Slayback and Jennifer Filoso was named to the third team. In addition, Marion Hagovsky received Honorable Mention All-Conference, and Slayback and Filoso garnered Second Team All-Conference honors.

The team finished with an outstanding 19-6 record overall, and ended the season ranked sixteenth in the Star-Ledger Tennis Top 20.

Boys' and Girls' Cross Country Teams:

Ed O'Hara: "I've got 10 more feet to go."

Chris Blake: "I'm running on to victory."

The Verona Boys' and Girls' Cross-Country teams, under the direction of their new coach, Mr. Doug Fuller, finished their season with a 3-6 record.

This year, the team ran conference meets at Delbarton High School every Tuesday, as opposed to running several dual meets throughout the season as was done in previous years.

The boy's team was co-captained by seniors Ed O'Hara and Fred Cataldo, and the girls' team by senior Laura Clark and junior Caroline Michelsen.

The Hockey Team was under the coaching and tutelage of Mr. Joe Bellino who lives in Verona and enjoys watching the kids play. Mr. Bellino stated, "The team is a new form of spirit for Verona; all will enjoy when they come to our games."

This year's roster featured captains Joe Caputo and Blake Kirby. The squad also had stars such as Mike Scaraggi, Russ Sikorsky, Naomi Pietrucha, Pete Skinner, and John Casale, who played the goalie position.

This squad featured new players such as Brian Buckley, senior Tony Tortoriello and frosh Chris Ruggiero. The team played hard and amassed a winning record. They had decisive wins over quality teams like Montclair.

The 1987-88 Varsity Basketball Team compiled an impressive record this season.

One of the most important ingredients in the Hillbillies' recipe for success was the group's teamwork. The team's ability to work together was essential because most opponents they faced had a height advantage. With their tallest player at 6'1", the cohesiveness of this unit was what made them win.

The team was led in scoring by junior Mike Fader. John Baumgard, a senior forward, was the team captain. He and the other seniors, Paul Marshlian, Jeff Sprengel, Joe Bizzarro, and Eddie O'Hara provided leadership both on and off the court.

Young Team Rallies Around Senior Leadership

The 1988 Girls' Varsity Basketball team won the Holiday Christmas Tournament against Caldwell.

Verona was led by Kelly McCormick. She averaged 16.5 points a game and was co-captain. The other co-captain was Jayme Paterson who is also a senior and who averaged 8.5 points per game. Other starters included Amy Tortorella, Moneah Hallman and Robin Livelli, all underclassmen. Other girls on the varsity squad were Justine Swartz, Melissa Pasquale, and Melissa Livelli.

Verona wrestlers showed promise for a successful season next year.

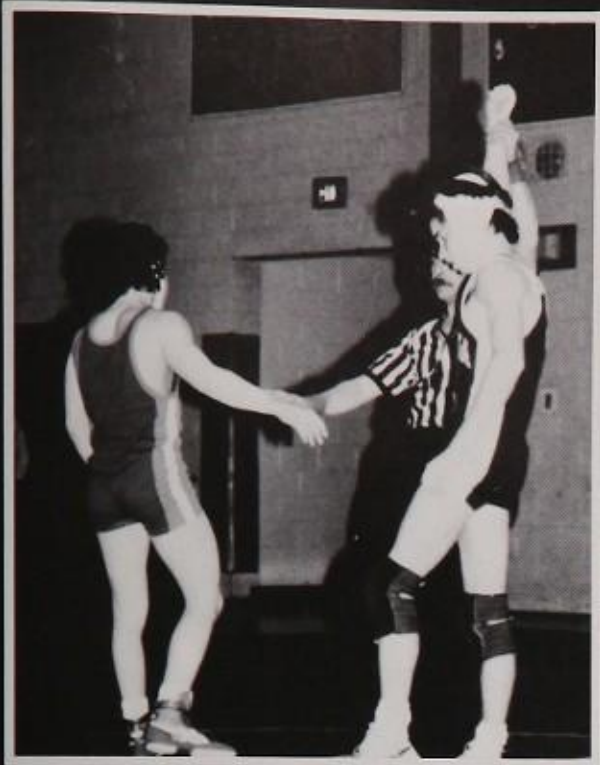

This year's team was comprised of J. J. Mohr, Kevin Meehan, and Scott Woldow, the only members of the team with previous experience. Danny De Miro, Brian Glennon, Joel Martin, Brendan Byrne, Brian McCormick, Glenn Laniewski, and Eric D'Allesandro make up the balance of the team. The team is coached by Jim Sauer.

"This year we are concentrating on getting individual wrestlers to win and to improve their techniques, rather than worry about the team score," says Coach Sauer.

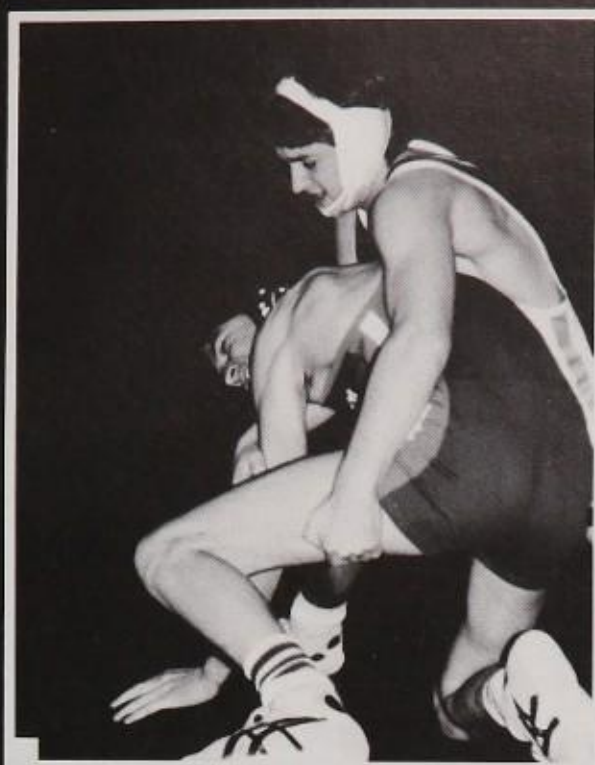

Next year the wrestlers are moving to a new conference that is not as competitive in wrestling as the Northern Hills Conference.

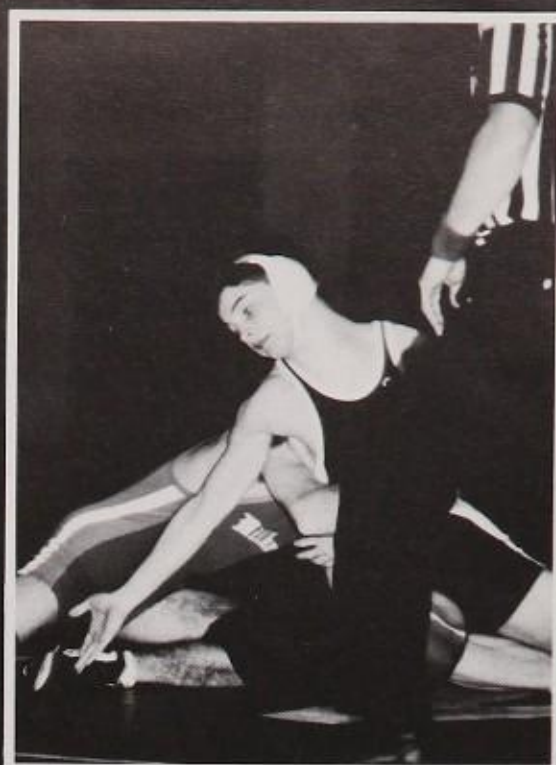

Scott: "What should I do now coach?"

"This year's varsity winter cheerleaders are hard working, dedicated, and always contributing new ideas," says captain Heather Nelson.

Although the cheerleaders only cheer for the home wrestling matches and home basketball games, the girls are cheering almost everyday after school. If the squad is not cheering at a game, their time is spent practicing new cheers and stunts.

For the first time, the squad is working on a dance routine to the song "We're Gonna Rock Tonight" by Time.

Coached by Mrs. Connie Delaura, the squad consists of ten girls and is captained by Danielle Miller and Heather Nelson. Other seniors include Angela MacFarlane, Margaret Hynes, and Katie Foran. Underclassmen consist of juniors Chrissy Cirello, Andrea Serpico, Mary Hart, and sophomores Christina Demaio and Holly Harrison.

The 1988 VHS Varsity Golf Team returned the nucleus of last year's 20-3-2 Essex County Champions. Five returning seniors in addition to some up and coming freshmen were counted on to lead the Verona forces.

In order to prepare for the great number of matches, the golfers engaged in preseason practice on the field at the Essex County Hospital Center or at the Frances Bryne Golf Course in West Orange.

The club opened its season on April 4, under the leadership of new coach, Mr. Rich SanFillipo.

Goals cited by coach included, "conference, state, and county tournament championships as well as an improvement in each golfer's all around game."

Mr. Bob Graham, head coach for the 1988 boys' varsity tennis season, started the season with great expectations. The team had a solid base to build upon. The team had a large majority of young players with a surprising three freshmen starting. There was only one returning senior and four returning juniors.

Coach Graham was pleased with the team because there was great improvement. They had better depth and were stronger.

The team members included, Timmy Kealy, Chris Ruggiero, Mark Ochab, Sean Carter, Bruno Moretzsohn, Rob McGinley, Michael Doerr, John Zingali, Mike Mariniello, Chris Tucker, Wayne Davies, Noah Lord, and manager Robin Livelli.

The 1988 Verona volleyball team was under the guidance of a new coach. Mrs. Joanne Spranz, who previously taught at V.H.S., led the volleyball team.

The varsity team only lost two players from last year, so the players showed lots of experience.

The varsity team consisted of seniors: Jayme Paterson, Jessica Isquith, Allison Smithers, Michelle Sanders, and Gina D'Acunti.

The most challenging game team faced was Columbia High School.

This year's track team had the advantage of being advised by three coaches: Mr. Doug Fuller, Mr. Jean Leparati and new addition Mr. Ray Boes. Mr. Boes joins the team from H. B. Whitehorne.

The track team competed in a total of seven events, including discus, shot put, javelin, high jump, pole vault, and long jump. In addition there are six different running events, some of which include hurdles.

The captains this year were seniors Fred Cataldo, Heather Nelson, Natalie Jordet and Chris Romanyshyn.

This year's team had a great many more runners than in previous years.

Fame came to Verona High School! A play-version of the popular movie and television show was presented in the spring in the VHS auditorium. The production was under the direction of Mr. Maurice Moran.

Aside from the main characters, the production showcased twelve dancers and a full chorus. Choreography was by Mrs. Sandy Arthurs, a former VHS math teacher, and by senior Tara Mannion.

On Wednesday, September 16 Verona High School joined schools all across the nation in celebration of the 200th anniversary of the Constitution. Under the direction of Mrs. Teri Fryer, coordinator of the Bicentennial Commission of the State of New Jersey, VHS faculty, students and special guests presented a gala event.

The celebration, entitled "History on Parade" and written by Mrs. Fryer, included narration by Superintendent Dr. John Pryor and VHS senior Katie Slayback as well as costumed roles for faculty and staff.

Teachers and administrators, dressed in period costume, posed in small groups representing time frames from the late 1700's to the Space Age.

Music interspersed with the narration helped to provide insight into the mood of the era.

The celebration continued during the day with costumed teachers giving way to guest speakers. Every department participated in the observance of the celebration.

YOUTH IN GOVERNMENT

The election for Youth in Government Day was held on Tuesday, November 3. The elected officials consisted of Blake Kirby, Kelly McCormick, Maureen Santiago, Jeff Sprengel, Cathy Tighe, Joe Van Oostendorp and Mayor Paul Marashlian.

The group presided over a town meeting and discussed the possibility of a youth substance counselor. They were treated to a breakfast and a tour of town facilities the following day.

Held annually, the Model UN is a simulated session of the actual United Nations. Verona High School was one of over one hundred schools invited to take part in this session in Boston.

The group was assigned to represent Cameroon, Africa in the United Nations and they spent from September to December researching different problems seen in that country.

Then they traveled to Boston to a four day conference with students from schools all over the country.

Verona High School's sociology class, taught by Mrs. Donvito, is composed of juniors and seniors. Students meet every day for one semester to discuss society, human and social relations, and change.

Each Friday, students meet with senior citizens in the Intergenerational Project. The students and seniors discuss a variety of subjects, encompassing history, current events, and cultural changes. Some popular topics include teenagers then and now, living through a World War, and Depression-era survival. The program is in its seventh year at Verona High.

This year's class added a new dimension to the project; they decorated the showcase in the front lobby. Called "Bridging the Gap," the showcase features a group picture of the students and senior citizens and includes vintage yearbooks and pictures of Verona.

This year's assembly leaders included Karen Crawford, Andi Fox, and Tena Alexandrou. It was their responsibility to open each assembly by introducing the person in charge and by leading the pledge of allegiance. The leaders have appeared in such assemblies as Fall Sports, Honor Society, Constitution Day, Magazine Drive, Service Awards, and Senior Awards.

Quill and Scroll, Verona High School's journalism honor society, was reinstated last year by advisor Mrs. Rita Solomon. To be eligible, a student must have done superior work in some phase of journalism. He must also be in the upper third of his class and should be recommended by his publications advisor.

This year's member is senior Katie Slayback.

Student government is the main source of organizing many activities and fundraisers, as well as developing school spirit. The Student Council covers pertinent topics in their meetings and also raises money by running the concession stand at all home football games. This year, they sponsored the class competition and purchased a juice machine to raise needed money for Verona High School. With Mr. Richard Meyer as its advisor, the Student Council conducted the third annual Lip Sync Contest and published the booster book.

The French Honor Society took a trip to see a French film, "Jean de Florette," and also planned a trip to a French restaurant in New York.

To raise money for their activities they sold candy and sponsored bake sales.

SPANISH HONOR SOCIETY

The Spanish Honor Society, under the direction of Mrs. Zalacain, earns money for its projects from the sale of candy.

Through the sale, the Society is able to buy Christmas presents and to contribute clothing to needy Hispanic families in the area. Members conduct a holiday food drive.

Of the 28 National Honor Society members, 22 were inducted in their junior year and 6 were inducted in their senior year. Juniors need a 3.85 grade point average in order to be eligible; seniors become eligible with a 3.70 GPA.

Membership in the National Honor Society represents leadership, scholarship, character, and involvement in extracurricular activities.

Members participate in a variety of activities and fund raising events. They play host to returning seniors at the Wassail Party, usher at graduation, act as guide at Back-to-School Night, and participate in the 8th grade orientation. The Society also conducts candy sales and bake sales throughout the year.

This year's SHADOWS staff consists of student editors from Journalism II class and staff members from Journalism I classes, all under the instruction of Mrs. Solomon.

The theme of the '88 yearbook is "The Road of Life." It is intended to trace the path that V.H.S. students take as they journey through high school and embark on their futures.

The publication of a yearbook entails a great deal of hard work. The work load is divided among the section editors and they are responsible for distributing it to the other staff members. While Journalism I students perfect their skills in the areas of lay-out and copy writing, the editors try to think of new ideas to add to the uniqueness of the yearbook.

This year's staff had the help of two yearbook advisors, Mrs. Kistner and Mrs. Marano.

The magazine comes out once a year, at the Creative Arts Festival in May, and features the winners of the annual literary contest. This year's theme was "On the Brink" and student winners include Amy Flynn for short story, Kathryn O'Donnell for poetry, and Anne Marie Carroll for artwork.

Because of the overwhelming number of entries received, committee members awarded second and third prizes in each category. Kathryn O'Donnell and Scott Chesney were recognized for short story, Richard Robinson and Heather Sprengel were recognized for poetry, and Derek Che and Mark Stroming took 2nd and 3rd places for artwork.

The Marching Maroon and White reigned again as Chapter V Champions in this 87-88 competitive season. This year's repertoire include "El Caliente," "Bananas," "Sambandria Swing" and "Dindi." Though unable to go to the Tournament of Band finals due to snow, the band had a very successful season winning trophies at many local competitions.

CONCERT BAND

The stands are empty; the judges have gone home; the field, once full of activity; is now snow covered and silent. The trophies sit high above the band room on their shelf to be admired. Band, contrary to belief is not over; it has just started.

In November the band came out of the damp and cold weather and took refuge in the warmth of the band room. At first they struggled with the music, then, with a little practice, got better. The band anxiously awaited the arrival of the first concert of the year, held during International Weekend.

During this time the band overcame many setbacks. Mr. Harry Owens, head director for the past four years, left.

But despite these minor setbacks, the band had a great year. Mr. Patrick Curcio, long time assistant director, took charge and became the new head director. The band warmly welcomed Mr. David Tintle who took over Mr. Curcio's old position.

Several students won honors and played in the Region I North Jersey Symphonic band and Wind Ensemble. Michael Doerr, trumpet, Michael Ou, alto saxophone, and Laila Olsen, French horn played in the Symphonic band, while Joseph Riesenman played with the Wind Ensemble. Michael Doerr and Joseph Reisenman went on to play in the All-State New Jersey band.

The Jazz Band had a successful season again this year. They competed at the MacDonald's Tri-State Festival as well as in Baltimore in the spring. This year's repertoire included "Latin Dance," "The Diver," "House of Dreams," and "Reflections."

Michael Weaver recites his poetry to students.

Maia reads from her novel Shadow of a Bull.

Maia works with students on writing techniques.

Newberry Award-winning novelist Maia Wojciechowska visited Verona High in December and taught four writing workshops to some fifty interested students. Maia came to Verona through funds from the New Jersey State Council of the Arts Poets-in-the Classroom Program which is made possible through support from the National Endowment for the Arts. Her visit was also partially funded by monies from Mr. Luks' Teacher of the Year Award.

Michael S. Weaver, a poet who presently lives in New Jersey, spent a morning reading and discussing his poetry with juniors and seniors in their English classes. Having read some of Mr. Weaver's poems, students were able to appreciate the imagery in his work. Many of the poems dealt with memories of his youth, and some were very amusing. Mr. Weaver has published a book of poems entitled Water Songs.

Mr. Weaver's visit was made possible by a grant from the Geraldine R. Dodge Foundation.

TO ALL PARENTS

"I'll lend you for a little time a child of mine," He said.
"For you to love the while he lives, and mourn for when he's dead.
It may be one or seven years, or twenty-two or three,
But will you, till I call him back, take care of him for me?
He'll bring his charms to gladden you, and should his stay be brief,
You'll have lovely memories as solace for your grief."

"I cannot promise he will stay, since all from earth return:
But there are lessons taught down there I want this child to learn,
I've looked the whole world wide for teachers kind and true:
And from the throng that crowds life's lanes, I have selected you.
Now, will you give him all your love and not think the labor vain
Nor hate me when I come to call him back again?"

I fancy that I heard them say,

"Dear Lord, Thy will be done.

For all the joy the child will bring, the risk of grief we'll run.
We'll shelter him with tenderness, will love him while we may;
And for happiness we've known forever grateful stay.
But should the angels call him much sooner than we've planned,
We'll brave the bitter grief that comes and try to understand."
